DEBT OFFER MAY EFFECT WORLD PEACE

SECRETARY MELLON SAYS WORKABLE TERMS DESIRED

Finance Minister of France Hopes For Agreement worthy of Two Nations—Governor of Wisconsin Declares America Should Demand Halt In Ruthless Warfare Between French and Riffians In Morocco.

The French and American debt commissioners, meeting in Washington to effect a settlement of France's war debt of $4,000,000,000, pledged themselves to face the issue as practical men, recognizing the problems of each other, and desirous of reaching a quick agreement.

France's position, stated by Joseph Caillaux, her minister of finance, was that his country has not forgotten "what we owe to America for her splendid work to end victoriously the war and for the generous help our people received from citizens of the United States."

M. Calliaux spoke very briefly, explaining that the hope of the French was to reach a settlement that would not only be practicable insofar as material interests are concerned, but one that would be "worthy of the past for the two great nations." He said the discussions between the two commissions should go forward in such a way as "to fortify peace and help the economic stabilization in the world."

The joint session was comparatively brief, lasting only a little more than an hour. It was followed, however, by a meeting of the American commission which, it is indicated, was prepared to talk over the general situation among its own members.

The conclusion of the joint session gave the French a test of treatment by a small army of American newspaper photographers. M. Calliaux took the affair as a matter of course and frequently cautioned members of the commission to sit still while the pictures were being made.

Governor Blaine, of Wisconsin, has made public a telegram he had sent President Coolidge declaring that before conversations are entered upon with France upon settlement of the war debt, America should demand "a halt in this ruthless warfare" between the French and Riffians in Morocco.

"Calliaux, French finance minister, landed in America, seeking extension of time of payment of the French debt due America and reduction of interest thereon," the telegram said. "A few days ago press dispatches carried the news that France had sent a fleet of sixteen airships to fight the Riffians in Morocco and France boasted that each airship dropped two tons of high explosives upon the homes of Moroccans, killing defenseless men, women and children."

"France is engaged in a competitive undertaking, building larger armies and navies and extending her territories in the exploitation of the weaker and smaller nations. The ruthless warfare that France is making on the mountain folk of Morocco in the killing of noncombatants and women and children, is nothing short of barbarism."

"Before conversations are entered upon with France on the debt settlement, America should demand a halt in this ruthless warfare. Before any concessions are made to France or any other foreign government, America should demand that they cease building larger armies and navies and cease their warfare on smaller nations," Blaine declared.

ing on the mountain folk of Morocco in the killing of noncombatants and women and children, is nothing short of barbarism.

TWO MILL LEVY CONTINUATION ASSESSMENT

At the noonday luncheon of the Rotary club at the Boggs Thursday noon the members heard a most interesting discussion of the financial affairs of the city by Fred R. Nicholas, clerk of council.

Mr. Nicholas gave facts and figures as to the condition of the city's finances and showed most conclusively that if the city is to have police and fire protection, it is imperative that the two mill levy receive a majority vote at the November election. The fact was emphasized that this does not mean an increase of the tax rate, but will be just a continuation of the two mill levy we have been paying for the last five years.

At the conclusion of the address of Mr. Nicholas the Rotary club voted unanimously to support the two mill levy proposition to work for its adoption.

Mannish Note Appeals in Fall Utility Coats

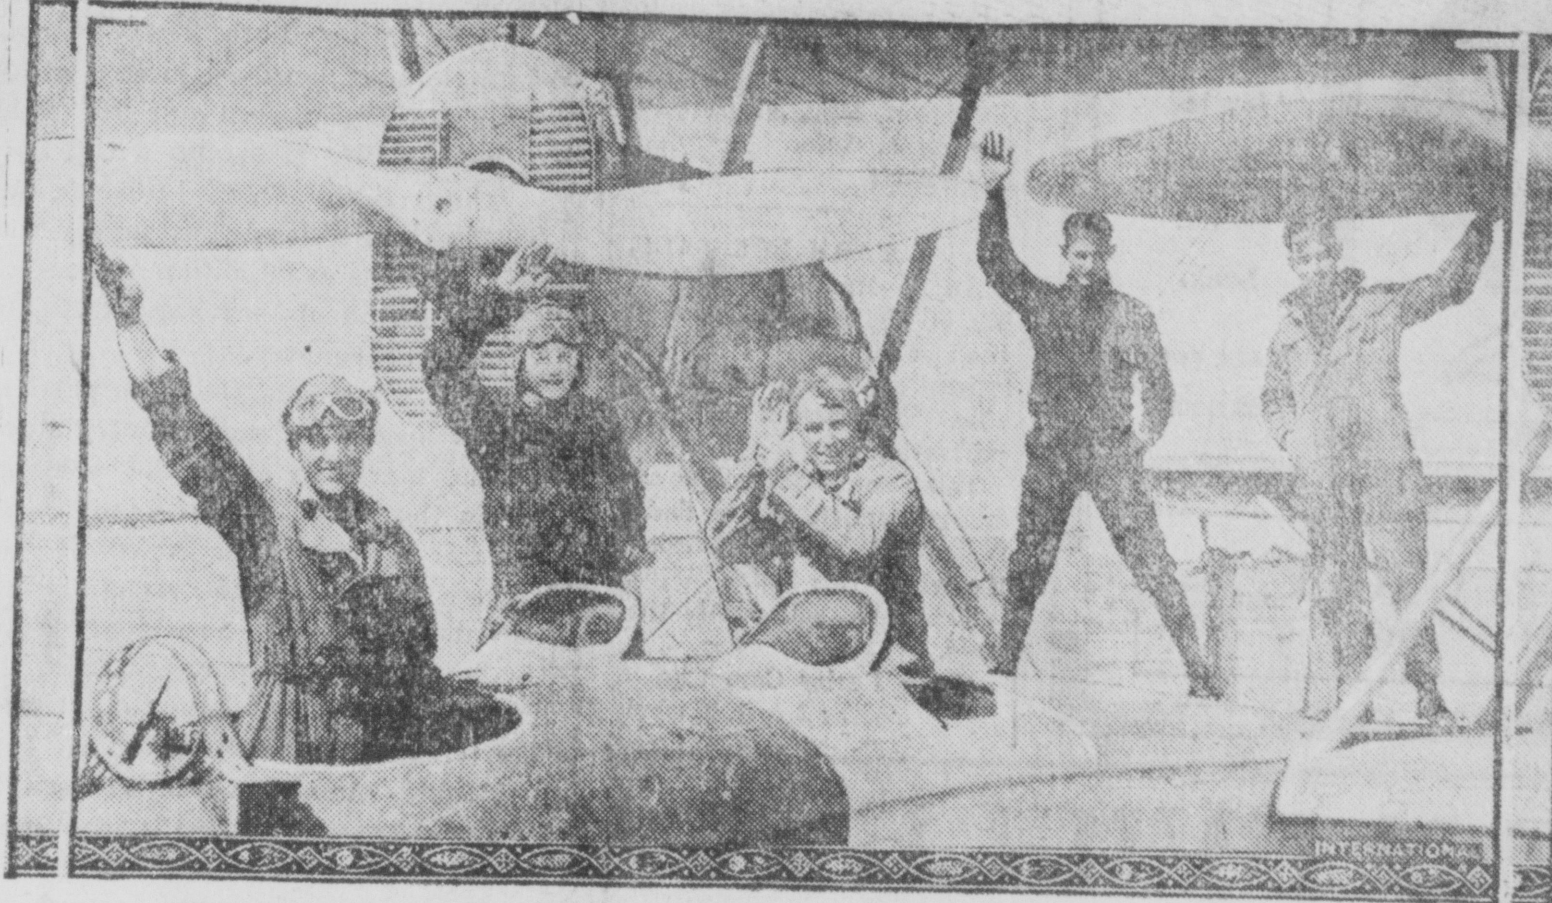

Trim lines, new style points and warmth commend this model to those in quest of a coat for all-round wear. It envelops the figure, has a semi-slug adjustment and is cut with a slight flare in the skirt portion. Bone buttons and a velvet inlay on the collar strike a popular mannish note that is evident in utility coats.

KINGSTON AND CLARKSBURG BOYS IN TOIL

Passed Worthless Checks on Kingston and Chillicothe Merchants.

The dragnet thrown out by local police in two Ohio cities Thursday netted the capture of two checkworkers, wanted for defrauding Chillicothe and Clarksburg merchants.

According to work from Lancaster, Ohio, W. A. Bowen, formerly of Clarksburg, is held there. He will be returned to this city to stand trial on charges of forgery sworn out against him by M. S. Daugherty, of Washington C. H. It is alleged he forged the name of A. L. Riley, also of Clarksburg, to a check for $68.40, which he cashed at Daugherty's. The check was drawn on the Midland City Bank at Washington.

Columbus police advised local authorities of the arrest of Roy A. Leist formerly of Kingston, wanted here for passing a worthless check for $25 on the Cameron-Kramer Hardware Co. List it is alleged, bought a small bill of goods at this store and paid for it with the worthless check, receiving a goodly amount of change in addition. He also ordered a washing machine sent to Kingston where it was refused.

PIKE COUNTY FRAUD CASES TERMINATED

No Prosecution Can be Made by State as Time Limit Has Expired.

Columbus, Sept. 25 (UP).—The Pike county election fraud case is dead.

Altho the grand jury here ordered state officials to take prompt measure to correct voting conditions in Pike county, Attorney General Crabbe announces that the statute of limitations has expired and no prosecution can be undertaken.

"To prosecute anyone for election frauds would simply be a wild goose chase," Crabbe said.

The grand jury heard 75 witnesses testify concerning the alleged frauds. It declined to return any indictments but found "gross irregularities in the use of absent voters' ballots," and stated that this amounted to flagrant defiance of election laws.

Then the jury turned the matter over to state officials with recommendation that "prompt measures be taken by state officials to remedy the deplorable condition prevailing affecting elections in Pike county."

After hearing the jury report Judge Hough advised District Attorney Mau to write to Attorney General Crabbe.

Crabbe, however, announced the state is powerless to proceed because the alleged frauds were committed in 1922 and the state has a statute of limitations requiring that prosecution must be begun within one year after an alleged offense.

There is a slight loophole for federal prosecution because the federal statute of limitations does not expire for three years.

UNDERWENT OPERATION

Ruth, the twelve year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Carothers, of 124 West Ohio street, who has been ill for the past ten days underwent an operation Thursday afternoon for appendicitis.

The operation was performed by Dr. A. W. Holman, assisted by Dr. Howard Jones and Dr. Harry D. Jackson. The operation was successful and she rallied nicely. The patient had a ruptured appendix and the operation was performed under unfavorable circumstances.

STAR RESTAURANT SOLD.

A. C. Ampsbaugh has sold his restaurant on South Court street to William Clevenger, of Amanda, who will continue the business. It is understood that Mr. Ampsbaugh will take over the Main Street restaurant.

THE HUNDRED BUSHEL CORN CLUB GROWS

Columbus —About 220 farmers in 38 Ohio counties have set out this year to grow 1,000 bushels of corn on 10 acres, it was announced here Friday by the Ohio 100 Bushel Corn club of Ohio State university. Never before have half as many entered the contest.

Of the 38 counties entered, the following eight have more than 10 entries each; Montgomery, Huron, Darke, Logan, Clark, Madison, Pickaway and Warren.

SWIFT BRICKLAYER

James Garfield Brown, bricklaying Indian athlete, successfully defended his title as world's champion bricklayer in a contest at Olathe, Kan. In six hours and 46 minutes Brown put down 46,044 bricks in all—218 tons or five carloads—at the rate of about two bricks a second. He laid 416 1/2 feet of road 28 feet wide, keeping six "longmen" busy handling down material.

Columbus —Two former officials of the R. L. Dollings company face six new counts charging use of the mails to defraud. William G. Benham and Dwight Harrison were indicted by the grand jury here late Thursday in connection with sales of stock of the International Note and Mortgage company, a Dollings subsidiary. The two will be arraigned in court next Tuesday to answer the indictments.

The recent completion of new stations brought Switzerland's total of hydroelectric power in use up to nearly 2,000,000 horsepower.

CONGRESSMAN DAVEY OFFERS SCHOLARSHIP

Mrs. Clark Will Chairman for County—Essay Contest Ends With Year.

Mrs. Clark Will, of this city, has been chosen chairman of this county for the Martin L. Davey Forest Conservation scholarship.

This contest is a state wide one and is sponsored by the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs. Congressman Martin L. Davey of Kent, Ohio, is offering this scholarship fund, which amounts to $4,000 to be expended at the rate of $1,000 a year for a scholarship in any college or university in the state of Ohio.

He purposes of the donor, Congressman Martin L. Davey and the Ohio Association of Women's clubs in offering this scholarship is to stimulate the thoughtful interest of the people of Ohio in this subject of fundamental and far reaching importance. Ohio has been so backward and so negligent in the matter of conserving and building up her forest wealth and in permitting the terrible effects of forest devastation that we must give immediate and serious consideration to its bearing on our future prosperity, security and happiness.

The contest is open to high school students in public and parochial schools, including those who graduated in June, 1925, and freshmen of the September, 1925 class.

The essays are limited to 500 words and must be in the hands of judges not later than December 31, 1925. The winner will be announced on Arbor day, 1926, and the formal award will be made at the state convention of the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs in the spring of 1926.

PROMOTION DAY EXERCISES AT M. E. CHURCH

Election of Sunday School Officers Wednesday— Rally Day.

Next Sunday morning will be "Promotion Day" in the First Methodist Episcopal Sunday school. The school will open promptly at 9 o'clock and at 10 o'clock all departments will assemble in the auditorium for the promotion exercises and presentation of diplomas. This will mark the closing of one of the most successful Sunday school years in the history of the church. Everyone cordially invited to attend.

Next Wednesday evening at eight o'clock there will be a meeting of the Sunday school board. At this session election of officers will be held. The aim of the school is progress in Religious Education and the coming year promises greater growth. Sunday, October 18, will be rally day and plans are being made to make this a great day. Tell your friends who are not attending Sunday school elsewhere. There is always a place for them.

TEAPOT DOME IS HOUSE, SAY STUDENTS IN TEST

Many Fail To Recognize Picture of Coolidge—Do Not Know What Reaper Is.

New York, Sept. 23.—Among the surprising answers given by American high school, college and university students in the annual test on current history, given by the Review of Reviews, results of which were made public recently, the fact was revealed that some believe "Ma" Ferguson, governor of Texas, to be president of Mexico, and one identified her with "Babe" Ruth, Teapot Dome is thought by others to be a building in Washington and still others confuse Mussolini with "Batling Siki," "Al" Jolson and "Billy" Sunday. The survey was based on examination papers of 1650 students scattered throughout the country.

It was found that no particular section of the country stood out markedly above the average in the knowledge of current affairs. Eleven per cent of the students failed to recognize the photograph of President Coolidge. Only 42 per cent knew the name of the inventor of wireless telegraphy. Only one of four could identify a reaper and a tractor—even when it was given a setting of a grain field.

Some of the students placed Muscle Shoals in Italy, others placed it in the Pacific Ocean. One youth was convinced that the United States had purchased Japan.

"The question may well be raised," the report said, "whether we are supplementing the headline reading, the picture newspaper supplement and movie news with serious study in the classroom to an adequate degree. 'Too frequently the question: 'Do you enjoy reading the newspapers and magazines?' was answered frankly, 'Yes—the funny part!'"

Rural, urban and metropolitan communities were covered by the report. The general average of the 1650 test papers, was 43 per cent, although many schools which made low percentages did not forward their papers. One senior high school student returned papers only 14 per cent correct.

DETROIT FULL OF "WET PIG" JOINTS

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 23.—(U.P.)—After six years of prohibition, officials at the head of four government agencies charged with enforcing the law here admit Detroit is probably one of the wettest spots in the United States.

One of four officials, A. B. Stroup, new federal prohibition administrator for eastern Michigan, goes all the way and says he believes the city is "the wettest in the country."

Stroup recently came here from Boston after two years at the head of the New England enforcement division, which he brought to a high degree of efficiency.

The three officials who join in the lesser indictment are:

Carey D. Ferguson, United States collector of customs, Detroit, who recently assumed charge of the "dry navy" on Detroit River.

Allan G. Straight, state commissioner of public safety, in charge of state constabulary, and Frank H. Croul, police commissioner of Detroit.

The number of "blind pigs" in operation here are variously estimated all the way from 1,500, admitted by Croul, to 15,000, a Detroit newspaper guess.

SCIOTO TRAIL PAVING MOVES ALONG QUICKLY

Two Miles Are Finished and Other Portions Widened—Curves Easier—Work To Be Finished Before Bad Weather Sets In.

When winter comes and traveling is a pleasure on good roads motorists who use the new paving on the Scioto Trail north of the city and the improved remainder of the pike, will find it a real treat.

At the present time the Scioto Trail is closed in the northern half of the county while contractors are busy laying the brick paving.

In the meantime through Pickaway county the highway department has been busily engaged in moving back fences, widening narrow places, cutting away curves and banking them properly.

It was stated early in the week that more than two miles of paving have been completed and with the proper sort of fall weather obtaining the work should be completed in good time before turbulent winter conditions.

With this much of the trail paved in the northern half of the county, it is expected that next season will see the highway department and the Ross county commissioners getting together on a plan to pave the southern half through to Pike county line.

It is understood that a quiet little movement is under way to get paving of the trail in Pickaway county started next spring, so that eventually, when Pike county can see its way clear to join in the fifty-fifty program, the Trail will be paved from Portsmouth to Columbus.

This has been the dream of road men, county commissioners and state highway men for the last few years and their successors are catching the vision and working to the end of realization.

It will be recalled that the highway department in joining with the county on the paving of the remainder of the northern half of the Trail in Ross county, agreed to tar-treat the southern end of the road and it was stated at the time that later it was hoped to finish the paving of the remainder of the highway at no distant date.

Scioto county has completed its share of the paving, Ross county will soon be winding up its program, Pickaway county will do all it can to facilitate work on this improvement and eventually Pike will come in. If it were only a question of spirit and wishes, Pike county would have had the improvement probably long before this. The fact that Pike county does not make more headway in this direction is due to a lack of appreciation of the necessity, but unfortunately the finances of the district are more meagre than neighboring counties, hence the delay. The men of Pike county are just as enterprising and as good judges of values as anywhere else, but their good business sense tells them that they must wait until times are more propitious and funds a little more plentiful.—Chillicothe News-Advertiser.

Hailstorms Come by Day

It is a curious fact, but scientists seem agreed that four out of five hailstorms occur in the day time and those during the day are usually the most intense and damaging. This fact is quite true irrespective of the sections of the country in which such storms are studied.

Fashion Notes That Are of Interest to Women

While a tendency toward a somewhat greater elaboration in formal clothes is gradually creeping into the mode, in the fashions designed for daytime and for country wear, simplicity is the unerring rule.

Women have learned much within the past decade as to the whys and wherefores of the mode, but nothing of greater moment than the fact that suitability is the guiding factor in the selection of clothes.

Silks of the washable type in plain colors and in both striped and plaided designs are frequently used for the simplest little sports dresses, and while gay colors are sometimes seen, the greater majority are in the faint pastel colors or the more definite crayon tones of pink, blue, green, yellow and violet, the latter at present extensively featured throughout every phase of fashion.

A most unique coat is made of extremely fine white serge. Sprinkled over the surface are large bunches of patch-work flowers that are made of many colored silks. Around the collar and cuffs are small bands of blue, violet and green silk, and these colors with the addition of many others make up the bouquets.

Fashion once more has hoisted the blue pennant to the masthead and sailed serenely into the mode with this color, the old-time favorite of years standing which for several seasons has been somewhat neglected and overlooked. In the early part of the season it seemed as though there was to be no place for navy blue, but recent openings which launched the modes for late summer and autumn confirmed the rumors afloat for some time that navy blue was to be of decided importance in the future modes.

Some Bags Large, Some Small; No Middle Course

Some of the new bags are so large that they will almost be confused with overnight cases. These show plaits and fullness and are no longer smooth and flat. This news will be a joy to the busy woman who likes to carry lists and letters and samples in her bag.

This is true of one bag, but, strange to say, the opposite extreme is just as smart, and we again see very small purses. In other words, there seems to be no middle course, and bags are very large or very small. It remains to be seen later which of the two styles will become more popular in America. Even more elaborate bags follow the same lines, and we see the tiniest of vanities or else something as large as the average dinner plate.

One especially attractive vanity is a tiny octagon of enamel no larger than a half-dollar and about a half-inch deep. This opens into two compartments, one for loose powder and the other for the flat puff, and it has a mirror in the lid. It is made of finest Viennese enamel and is decorated in several different styles. The octagon box is suspended by two small chains about five inches long from an enameled cylinder which holds a lip stick and also serves as a handle. This is only one of many of the small vanities that are so decorative, but it is newer than any of the other shapes and varieties.

Low Collars

Collared shoes are a recent novelty. The newest name for the variegated trimming on the edges of the new pumps is the collar. The Greek key design is a favorite for such adornment and is carried out in colors contrasting with the remainder of the shoe. Nude or beige collars on white lace kid are frequently seen.

WE SAVE YOU MONEY.

The time is passed when the measure of the value of a memorial is quantity. I hope the time has come when that measure is quality. I care not whether the material be marble or granite, its future will be measured by the character of the design. It is quality that has preserved for us the finest examples in painting and sculpture. It is quality that will stamp our imprint upon cemeteries of the future. Simplicity, correct lines and proportions and proper ornamentation are the real fundamentals. A design that is right, material that is lasting and perfect workmanship, spells success for the future of this industry and the beautification of the cemetery. Will you let me help you select the memorial for your lot. Call at show room. NO AGENTS.

NOT LATIN.

Jack returned home from college, where he had won high honors as a student of ancient languages, but he plead ignorance one day when his younger sister asked him to translate a sign she had seen at an optician's, which read thus, "Con sultu sabo utyo urey es."

Jack struggled manfully with it for several minutes and gave it up.

"It isn't good Latin," he said. "There are some words in it that are Latin. The others aren't. Anyhow, it doesn't make sense."

"That is what I said," replied his sister; "but the cook translates it without any trouble. She says it means 'Consult us about your eyes.'"

Aaron Luzador—Indian
Fighter Goes to Happy
Hunting Ground.

Aaron Luzader, 72, of near Staunton, Fayette county, died Tuesday night.

He was a former Ross county, having lived in Chillicothe as a young man.

In his death is seen another great Indian fighter who was with the reserves sent to aid General George Custer on the Little Big Horn river in Wyoming on the expedition which resulted in the massacre of Custer's force by the Sioux Indians, June 24, 1874.

Mr. Luzader came to Ohio from Iowa while still a young man, and spent most of his life in Ross county, also living at Grove City some time, and a few years in Fayette county. He was employed by Mr. Bush, having worked there since last spring.

Mr. Luzader often mentioned his experiences under the colors during the Indian war.

The deceased is survived by one son Leroy, of Toledo, and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Beebe, of Columbus.—News-Advertiser.

SACRIFICES

IN DISGUISE

Rapid Advancement in the Business World is Made
Thru Honest Labor.

All real success must stand on the solid foundation of sacrifice.

This is true in every walk of life and with equal truth it may be said that the practices of thrift are of greatest value, because of the strength of character, will power and complete self-mastery which they impart.

The employee who is willing to make the sacrifice of doing more than he is paid to do—the man or woman who saves at the sacrifice of temporary pleasure, can rest assured they are on the high road of success.

To all those who are imbued with the true thrift spirit, sacrifices are but blessings in disguise.

A young man, who has made rapid advancement in the business world, and, from every standpoint of good citizenship and personal progress, is an outstanding success, recently was asked to outline the principles which have served for his guidance. His written reply was as follows:

"I believe in doing more than I am paid to do, because I believe that it will pay me in the long run and that I can prove to be of greater value to myself and to my friends. If necessary, I will make sacrifices. I have made them in the past, and I expect to make them in the future. I do not believe any man can really succeed who is not willing to make sacrifices and make them promptly and willingly when they are called for."

Here is one of the best lessons in thrift ever uttered. It would be well if all young men and young women could read it carefully and apply it personally.

It is a lesson in thrift because it teaches success thru sacrifice.
S. W. STRAUS.

Fooled by Scarecrow

For several days a patient fisherman has been noted standing on the shore of a certain pond in Wilton, N. H. Day after day he stood there. A particularly constant watcher felt sure the man was getting short trout, and notified a game warden. However, the watcher's eyes are in need of correction, for the man turned out to be a well-fashioned scarecrow.

Zangwill Somewhat Peeved

On the door of Israel Zangwill's flat in London, writes a correspondent, is posted the sign: "To burglars: You are cheerfully invited to enter, as everything of value has already been taken." It appears that the rooms of the famous Jewish dramatist were almost "cleaned out" by burglars recently, and it further appears he is somewhat annoyed.

BOMBERS HELD
IN KENTUCKY
BIG REWARD

Charged That Three Men
Blew up Home of Judge a
Few Weeks Ago.

Lindsey Blair, 24, son of Squire S. J. Blair, his cousin, Langley Blair, 18, of Catlettsburg and John Blanton, 35, of Circleville, Ohio, have been arrested by Boyd county officials and are now in jail at Catlettsburg in connection with the bombing of Judge W. Flanery's residence in Catlettsburg a few weeks ago.

Lindsey Blair was arrested at Ford, Kentucky, near Winchester, at the home of a relative, while Langley was arrested in Catlettsburg and Blanton at Circleville.

According to Sheriff Clark of Boyd county, evidence in the hands of the officers indicate that the three men were paid $350 to blow up the Flanery home. He declared that these three arrests would probably bring about the arrest of prominent persons, in Boyd county, who were bitter against Judge Flanery on account of his relentless fight on the illicit liquor traffic.

That Blair has friends in Catlettsburg who knew where he was, was indicated by the fact that a message sent to warn him of the coming of the officers reached him an hour after he had been arrested, according to Sheriff Clark.

A reward of $2,000 was offered for the guilty parties.

Circuit Judge Henry L. Woods, when the Boyd county grand jury was brought before him for instructions, gave especial orders that a careful and courageous inquiry be made into the bombing and to remain in session until they had uncovered all of the persons connected with the explosion in any way.—Big Sandy News, Louisville, Kentucky.

HAPPENINGS IN OUR STATE

Taken Direct From the Wires by Correspondents of the United States Press Association.

Columbus.—Fire caused a loss of $7,500 and for a time threatened destruction of the Merchandise Storage company. The blaze apparently started in a pile of merchandise near the furnace.

Dayton.—An attempt to fly an airplane continuously for 100 hours, more than four days, without alighting will be made beginning Monday at Detroit by two pilots.

Dayton.—This city was asked last Thursday to dig down in its pockets and return $96,851 to the Water Works fund, claimed to have been illegally used by the city government in defraying other expenses of the city.

Tiffin.—Vincent Fleck, 22, miraculously escaped death here when the second floor of the building used by the Floom-Fleck wholesale grocery house collapsed and tumbled down tons of sugar and canned goods upon him. Fleck was dug out of the ruins and physicians say his injuries are not serious.

Elyria.—The channel machins used in hewing rock at the Birmingham quarry of the Ohio Stone company near here exploded, killing one man, fatally injuring four and hurting three others.

George Ott, 45, of Amherst, Ohio, died on the way to a hospital. Clarence Dennison, Nelson Lawrence, Leon Hopkins and Martin Bates, all of Birmingham were all burned and cut so severely that little hope was held for them.

Dayton.—Dayton is the home of the ice cream cone industry.

Consolidation of eight of the principal cone manufacturing companies with headquarters in Dayton was confirmed recently. The company will have a yearly manufacturing capacity of 210,000,000 sandwich wafers.

Columbus.—Toadstools believed to have been mixed with mushrooms caused illness to three persons here Friday. All of them will creover.

Columbus — The old adage about "The Woman Pays" appears to be denied by statistical information in the hands of County Clerk Gockenbach here. He has discovered that more than $60,000 alimony each year is given by husbands to ex-wives in this county.

COMING YEAR TO BE HARD ONE, SEER SAYS

The old world is in for a hard time next year, not the least of it being the grave danger of another European war and Red revolutions in many countries, according to the gloomy predictions of "Old Moore's Almanack," just issued for all the world to see and read.

In the words of the pessimistic seer, the heavens show that the year 1926 appears destined to test the temper and patience of myriads of human souls.

"Wonderment and amazement will hold you as in a spell when the possibilities of the year 1926 are laid bare," it says, and then agony is piled upon agony with lavish hand when it says: "License, lawlessness, self-indulgence, rioting, debauchery, improvidence, murder, theft and violence will attend the loosing of the unbridled passions of a perverted and godless generation.

"The sickle is put into reaping and the world generally will become so decimated during the ensuing four years that nothing short of divine intervention will save it from self-destruction."

Old Farmer Fumblegate Recalls Golden Days

"I've been reading in the paper about a good deal of regret being felt for the passing of Shanley's restaurant in New York," said Farmer Fumblegate. "What do you s'pose there was about it that would make people so sorry that it was going to be torn down?"

"Well, I'll tell you, Adrian, if you won't let it go any farther," replied Farmer Fumblegate. "I guess it was something like a restaurant I used to drop into when I was up in Kay See. They had a plump little red-headed waitress that would come and set on the corner of your table, and—"

"After she had got well acquainted with you, o' course?"

"Yes, or before; and swing her feet and josh you till you gave her a good deal bigger tip than you had intended to."—Kansas City Star.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

RYTHMATS AT C. A. C. DANCE SATURDAY EVE

Other Pleasing Features Which Will Add to the Attractiveness.

The dance committee of the Circleville Athletic club, has been fortunate in again securing the popular Rythmats of Dayton, to furnish the music for the regular Saturday night dance this week. This event will be celebrated by another carnival dance, this orchestra having played here at the last carnival dance given by the club.

Those who attended that dance will vouch for the fact that a wonderful time was had on that occasion and will all be ready to recommend the dance of Saturday night in enthusiastic terms.

This wonderful musical organization from Dayton is one of the most popular ever played here and in view of that fact the committee has not only arranged for their appearance here this week, but have also closed a contract with them to furnish the music for the annual Pumpkin Show dance this year.

Good music has never failed to attract a good attendance at these Saturday night dances, and the combination of carnival dance and Rythmats should bring out a record breaking crowd.

In addition to these two very material incentives to attract a large attendance, the committee also desires to announce another feature which will add to the general attractiveness of the dance.

The interior of the gym has been repainted in an attractive manner and this redecorating will undoubtedly prove very pleasing to the eyes of the dance patrons.

Don't forget; Carnival dance and Rythmats. It is that a combination to intrigue the fancy of the dance lover.

BLOOD TELLS.

"There has always been a John Rodgers in the navy," proudly claims a member of that distinguished family, "since the days of Paul Jones." Well, there has never been a better John Rodgers! It is the indomitable spirit of the man which lays hold of the imagination and stirs the heart's blood to the boiling point. With quite a hopeless outlook before him and his sea bubbles with the chances all but against their rescue, with the angel of death actually grinning at them, John Rodgers gulped down his fears and "kidded" the crew into good spirits and a new-found faith. This is leadership of the highest quality. It rises above the forces which make men strong in their daily lives and brings them into contact with the spiritual. Not a moment did he falter in the responsibilities which were also a captain of the airship. He took no more. "He stood every watch." "He would not sleep."

The behavior of John Rodgers magnifies the pride of the navy, dignifies the service which he so admirably represents, and bucks up "every son of a sea cook" from the galley to the bridge. But it is more than that. It concerns and awakens a similar pride on the part of every American citizen, who sees in him and his sense of duty the traits of character which are so essential to great achievement in all walks of life. John Rodgers is a revelation which was needed for general instruction. He is fortunate in having been given the opportunity to make it, thrilling and distressing as it was. It reminds us just in time, when the world seems to be topsy-turvy and its spokesmen at odds, that the John Rodgers type has not been lost, and the service it will continue to give has not been overcome or disheartened. A toast to John Rodgers, a true American and intrepid gentleman! — New Haven Journal-Courier.

Finance in Afghanistan

An ingenious scheme has been devised for financing the Afghan embassies abroad. Every embassy in Kabul has to pay the same rent there for accommodation as the Afghan minister in the corresponding foreign capital. Colonel Humphry's mud bungalow, for instance, costs his government as much as the house in Grosvenor gardens, London, where the Afghan envoy resides.—Lowell Thomas in Asia Magazine.

Fertilizer Program for Whole Rotation

Increases Fund of Plantfood
and Improves Soil.

The soundness of a fertilizer program that considers not only the crop immediately fertilized, but all the crops in a rotation, is beginning to be recognized. The balance sheet which shows a profit from expenditure for fertilizer is not complete unless it considers the residual effect of fertilizer applications on other crops.

Here is a case in point—in a series
of fertilizer tests by the Wisconsin
experiment station in southern Wisconsin, $3.50 worth of fertilizer produced an increase of 8.5 bushels of oats, as an average on 23 farms. If the tests had stopped with the oat yields, doubtless the returns would not have satisfied some of the fertilizer users. But the following year, clover which followed oats on nine of the farms, yielded 853 pounds more hay per acre where the oats had been fertilized. On 17 farms where alfalfa followed fertilized oats, an increase of 950 pounds of hay per acre
was obtained in the first cutting.
Yields on the second and third cuttings could not be obtained, but would unquestionably raise the 950 pounds
increase materially.

In a good farming system, such results as the above are carried on to following crops. With the larger crops, more stock can be fed, and more manure produced to return more plantfood to the soil. The net effect of a sound fertilizer practice on general farms is to increase the revolving fund of plantfood, resulting in

Way of Burying Cabbage to Prevent Rapid Decay

In planning to bury cabbage to avoid decay first select a well-drained spot
and dig a hole about four inches deep,
varying in width and length to suit
the amount stored. Allow the leaves and roots to remain on the cabbage
and without bruising or breaking,
place upside down on the ground.
Wrap the outer loose leaves closely about each head. The next row is placed on top of the first, between the upturned roots, and this is continued until a pointed pile is made.
Over this, soil is placed gradually,
adding more as the weather becomes colder. Only solid heads of the late varieties should be stored. The flat varieties are not as good for storage as are the tighter ball-head kinds.
Cabbage is not seriously injured by freezing provided it is allowed to thaw out slowly while still buried in the soil.

Bursting of Cabbage Is Very Easily Prevented

The bursting of growing cabbage
may be prevented very easily by selecting the heads which show signs
of bursting and starting the roots by pulling, or cutting off some of the roots with a hoe. The pulling process is preferable. Putting both hands under the head, pull until many of the roots are loosened and the plant is pushed over to one side. This treatment effectually stops the bursting,
and not only that, but the cabbage continues to grow lustily, and one has
the gratification of seeing the heads thus treated grow to greater size and weight, and all due to this starting
the roots, which checks the growth enough to prevent bursting, but does not hinder further development.

Feed Dairy Cows Grain for Maximum Production

A good pasture makes a good ration
for dairy cows but maximum production cannot be secured on grass alone.
Some grain should be fed, the amount
depending upon the breed of the cow
and the amount of milk she is giving daily. A Jersey giving 20 pounds of milk a day should have 3 pounds of grain in addition to the pasture while one giving 40 pounds a day should have 10 pounds of grain. A Holstein giving 35 pounds of milk should have 3 pounds of grain, while one giving 50 pounds of milk should have 10 pounds
of grain.

FARM NOTES

Early molters are poor producers
and late molters are good producers.

Weeds absorb water. The moral:
Kill the weeds and save the water for
the corn.

Watch the garden for unwelcome insect visitors. A bug in time saves
nine—and the garden sassa.

If the poultry house does not supply protection and comfort, then it will not be a profitable investment.

Do you make a practice of greasing
your wagon wheels regularly? A little grease will go a long way in prolonging the life of a wagon.

Flea-beetles, pests that injure corn,
potatoes and garden plants, will call quits when a spray of bordeaux mixture and arsenate of lead comes along.

The man who consistently follows
a well-established live-stock system
on his farm is more prosperous than
the man who tries to be in when conditions look good and out when they look bad.

Unlike ladies of that age, the Cincinnati Zoo is not ashamed of its fifty years.

A System of Farming That Brings Health and Prosperity

Every farm, regardless of the method of farming practiced or of the crops raised, should have at least a few good milch cows to provide

- (1) Enough milk, cream and butter for home use;
- (2) Enough skim-milk to raise some calves, pigs and chickens;
- (3) Enough cream or butter to sell to pay, in part or entirely, current living expenses.

This plan has been a "life-saver" for thousands of farmers, especially during the hard times of the past two years. It insures a living, at least, and often other income besides.

Such a plan pays best with a De Laval
Cream Separator. It soon pays for itself—
and skims cleaner, lasts longer and is easier to operate and clean than any other.

GOVERNOR DONAHEY

Steps Into Limelight On State Prohibition Enforcement.

Columbus, Sept. 24.—(UP.)—Gov. Donahey has ordered that private dwellings must, NOT in the future be raided by prohibition agents unless information of liquor sales is confirmed by two reputable sources.

This action was taken by the state's chief executive following the furor raised by State Senator George H. Bender whose home was raided in Cleveland following receipt of an anonymous note by the prohibition bureau.

The prohibition bureau has acquiesced in the decision of Donahey and the new plan of enforcement will be carried out by Commissioner B. F. McDonald.

RED CROSS WORKERS ARE PLANNING CAMPAIGN

Officials Expect To Increase Present Membership of 200,000 By 10 Per Cent.

Columbus, Sept. 23.—Red Cross workers expect to increase their Ohio membership by at least 10 per cent in the annual roll call which begins Nov. 11, according to plans discussed at the Ohio Regional Conference of the American Red Cross, held at the Southern Hotel. State membership now is 200,000.

Approximately 40 workers from central and northeastern Ohio attended.

James A. Maddox, Columbus, presided over the conference. Miss Elizabeth Long, executive secretary, Franklin County Chapter, Columbus, addressed the meeting on the subject of "Civilian Home Service." She dealt with the work in behalf of former service men and women.

Three representatives from the national headquarters at Washington, were present. Robert E. Bundy, assistant to the vice chairman, former resident of Columbus and member of the Chamber of Commerce staff, spoke on "Chapter Building."

James L. Feiser, vice chairman and head of domestic operations, addressed the conference on "The Red Cross in Action." Mr. Feiser formerly was superintendent of the Associated Charities in Columbus and later director of Red Cross relief measures in the 1913 floods.

Discussions were led by Miss Alice Patterson, Mt. Vernon; Jesse M. Barton, Martin's Ferry; Mrs. Vadae G. Meekison, Napoleon; Miss Agnes Butch, Circleville; W. C. Hewitt, Springfield, and W. H. Backman, Bowling Green.

Firestone Double the Mileage at Half the Cost

Only a few years ago a 32 x 4 cord tire listed over $50.00. Today, you can buy the highest quality 32 x 4 tire—a Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord—for about $26.00.

Last spring crude rubber cost tire makers around 40 cents a pound. Today, it is over 90 cents a pound.

It was not so long ago that 7,500 miles represented the average life of a cord tire, while today, 15,000 miles—and more—is only the usual performance for a Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord.

Due to large, concentrated production, specialized machinery and simplified factory methods, together with economical distribution, Firestone is able to keep tire prices low—no matter where the price of crude rubber goes.

And, because of special Firestone processes, chief among which is Gum-Dipping, motorists are today getting thousands of extra miles by using Gum-Dipped Cords.

Gum-Dipping is an exclusive method used by Firestone. It is an extra process, carried out in special Gum-Dipping plants, after which the cords are put through the usual calendaring machines. Gum-Dipping insulates and impregnates every fiber of every cord with rubber, and practically eliminates internal friction and heat, and builds strength and endurance into the tire.

In the day-in and day-out service of taxicabs, buses and trucks—on the cars of hundreds of thousands of motorists everywhere—Gum-Dipped Cords are giving unheard-of mileage, dependability and satisfaction.

Get ready for the coming months of slippery pavements and bad roads. Assure yourself of greater safety, comfort and economy by equipping now with Firestone Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloons.

LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. J. W. Johnson Passed Away Thursday Night -- Funeral Saturday.

Mrs. Serelda Johnson, wife of J. W. Johnson, editor and publisher of The Watchman, died Thursday night, September 24, at her home on North Court street at 10 o'clock. She had been ill for a number of years of diabetes. She was born near Jackson, June 21, 1850 and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron McLaughlin. She was married to J. W. Johnson August 24, 1879.

The deceased was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church. Coming to this city from Waverly a few years ago with her family, she had lived here ever since and made many friends. She was a woman of fine qualities of mind and heart; an ideal mother and wife and a woman whom the community and church will miss. Her husband and children have the sympathy of their friends and acquaintances.

Besides her husband she leaves two sons and two daughters. They are Miss Carrie E. and Paul Johnson, of this city; Carl L. Johnson, of Paris, Kentucky, and Carsa F., wife of J. L. Joy, of Syracuse, New York.

Of her immediate family three brothers are living. They are Aaron E. McLaughlin, of Washington D. C.; Stephen A. McLaughlin, of Waverly, and Oscar McLaughlin of Jackson.

The funeral services will be held from her late home Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. E. K. Johnson will officiate. Interment in Forest cemetery.

AMUSEMENTS

When J. Parker Read, Jr., obtained thru an international contest, the ten most beautiful women of Europe to appear in his picture, "Recoil," which has been booked for one day at the Metropolitan theater, beginning today. It was quite natural that he should receive requests from many of the nobility, who gather on the Riviera during the season, to witness the scenes in which these ten beauties of Europe appeared.

For these scenes Mr. Read had built a special banquet table which was made in the shape of a jeweled brooch, illuminated by hundreds, of concealed lights, and each guest's place at the table was indicated by a large bevelled crystal, which, with the light beneath it, gleamed like a huge diamond.

During the banquet, the scene called for a dancer who, to amuse the guests, was to dance on and around the table itself. Mr. Read engaged the services of Mlle. Marcelle Mascotte.

Mlle. Mascotte appeared in a dancing costume made of little else but a few gleaming jewels. There was a complimentary buzz of excitement as the potable audience leaned forward to watch. The lights went out, and only a spotlight brought forth the charms of the jeweled dancer and the jeweled table.

Suddenly there was a crash, and everyone gasped with horror as it was seen that Mlle. Mascotte had crashed thru one of the "diamonds." One can imagine the effect of this on Mr. Reed and his director, T. Hayes Hunter, and on his art director, Henr Menessier, as these three gentlemen knew that the "diamond" was a piece of glazed crystal half an inch thick, and they had a vision of the dancer's legs having been cut to ribbons.

Imagine their amazement when, just as they were about to rush forward, they saw Mlle. Mascotte pull her leg back thru the broken glass and, with a wave of her hand to the musicians, continue her dance and then finish this with one mad whirl on the table. Then she heard Mr. Hunter call out the signal that meant the end of the scene and thereupon promptly fainted and was caught in the arms of the guests seated at the table when she fell. Upon examination it was found that Mlle. Mascotte had suffered nothing except shock and a few minor cuts and bruises.

Bulgaria Bars Bobs

Bulgaria is a country in which the regulation of the affairs of the people is distinctly in evidence, especially in so far as the feminine sex is concerned. For instance, a recent decree of the state educational authorities forbids school girls to shingle or bob their hair. Another decree provides that skirts must not be too short. In one or two of the provincial towns the rules are even more strict and silk stockings and canes are regarded as quite unnecessary articles in a woman's attire. In general Bulgarian women dress soberly, but neatly, and prefer good, lasting textures to cheap and frippery goods.

Finance Minister of France

Hopes For Agreement worthy of Two Nations—Governor of Wisconsin Declares America Should Demand Halt In Ruthless Warfare Between French and Rifians In Morocco.

ing on the mountain folk of Morocco in the killing of noncombatants and women and children, is nothing short of barbarism.

"Before conversations are entered upon with France on the debt settlement, America should demand a halt in this ruthless warfare. Before any concessions are made to France or any other foreign government, America should demand that they cease building larger armies and navies and cease their warfare on smaller nations," Blaine declared.

The French and American debt commissioners, meeting in Washington to effect a settlement of France's war debt of $4,000,000,000, pledged themselves to face the issue as practical men, recognizing the problems of each other, and desirous of reaching a quick agreement.

France's position, stated by Joseph Caillaux, her minister of finance, was that his country has not forgotten "what we owe to America for her splendid work to end victoriously the war and for the generous help our people received from citizens of the United States."

M. Calliaux spoke very briefly, explaining that the hope of the French was to reach a settlement that would not only be practicable insofar as material interests are concerned, but one that would be "worthy of the past for the two great nations." He said the discussions between the two commissions should go forward in such a way as "to fortify peace and help the economic stabilization in the world."

The joint session was comparatively brief, lasting only a little more than an hour. It was followed, however, by a meeting of the American commission which, it is indicated, was prepared to talk over the general situation among its own members.

The conclusion of the joint session gave the French a test of treatment by a small army of American newspaper photographers. M. Calliaux took the affair as a matter of course and frequently cautioned members of the commission to sit still while the pictures were being made.

Governor Blaine, of Wisconsin, has made public a telegram he had sent President Coolidge declaring that before conversations are entered upon with France upon settlement of the war debt, America should demand "a halt in this ruthless warfare" between the French and Rifians in Morocco.

"Calliaux, French finance minister, landed in America, seeking extension of time of payment of the French debt due America and reduction of interest thereon," the telegram said. "A few days ago press dispatches carried the news that France had sent a fleet of sixteen airships to fight the Rifians in Morocco and France boasted that each airship dropped two tons of high explosives upon the homes of Moroccans, killing defenseless men, women and children.

"France is engaged in a competitive undertaking, building larger armies and navies and extending her territories in the exploitation of the weaker and smaller nations. The ruthless warfare that France is making

TWO MILL LEVY CONTINUATION ASSESSMENT

At the noonday luncheon of the Rotary club at the Boggs Thursday noon the members heard a most interesting discussion of the financial affairs of the city by Fred R. Nicholas, clerk of council.

Mr. Nicholas gave facts and figures as to the condition of the city's finances and showed most conclusively that if the city is to have police and fire protection, it is imperative that the two mill levy receive a majority vote at the November election.

The fact was emphasized that this does not mean an increase of the tax rate, but will be just a continuation of the two mill levy we have been paying for the last five years.

At the conclusion of the address of Mr. Nicholas the Rotary club voted unanimously to support the two mill levy proposition to work for its adoption.

Mannish Note Appeals in Fall Utility Coats

Trim lines, new style points and warmth commend this model to those in quest of a coat for all-round wear. It envelops the figure, has a semi-swing adjustment and is cut with a slight flare in the skirt portion. Bone buttons and a velvet inlay on the collar strike a popular mannish note that is evident in utility coats.

KINGSTON AND CLARKSBURG BOYS IN TOIL

Passed Worthless Checks on Kingston and Chillicothe Merchants.

The dragnet thrown out by local police in two Ohio cities Thursday netted the capture of two checkworkers, wanted for defrauding Chillicothe and Clarksburg merchants.

According to work from Lancaster, Ohio, W. A. Bowen, formerly of Clarksburg, is held there. He will be returned to this city to stand trial on charges of forgery sworn out against him by M. S. Daugherty, of Washington C. H. It is alleged he forged the name of A. L. Riley, also of Clarksburg, to a check for $68.40, which he cashed at Daugherty's. The check was drawn on the Midland City Bank at Washington.

Columbus police advised local authorities of the arrest of Roy A. Leist, formerly of Kingston, wanted here for passing a worthless check for $25 on the Cameron-Kramer Hardware Co. List it is alleged, bought a small bill of goods at this store and paid for it with the worthless check, receiving a goodly amount of change in addition. He also ordered a washing machine sent to Kingston where it was refused.

PIKE COUNTY FRAUD CASES TERMINATED

No Prosecution Can be Made by State as Time Limit Has Expired.

Columbus, Sept. 25 (UP).—The Pike county election fraud case is dead.

Altho the grand jury here ordered state officials to take prompt measure to correct voting conditions in Pike county, Attorney General Crabbe announces that the statute of limitations has expired and no prosecution can be undertaken.

"To prosecute anyone for election frauds would simply be a wild goose chase," Crabbe said.

The grand jury heard 75 witnesses testify concerning the alleged frauds, it declined to return any indictments but found "gross irregularities in the use of absent voters' ballots," and stated that this amounted to flagrant defiance of election laws.

Then the jury turned the matter over to state officials with recommendation that "prompt measures be taken by state officials to remedy the deplorable condition prevailing affecting elections in Pike county."

After hearing the jury report Judge Hough advised District Attorney Mau to write to Attorney General Crabbe.

Crabbe, however, announced the state is powerless to proceed because the alleged frauds were committed in 1922 and the state has a statute of limitations requiring that prosecution must be begun within one year after an alleged offense.

There is a slight loophole for federal prosecution because the federal statute of limitations does not expire for three years.

UNDERWENT OPERATION

Ruth, the twelve year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Carothers, of 124 West Ohio street, who has been ill for the past ten days underwent an operation Thursday afternoon for appendicitis.

THE HUNDRED BUSHEL CORN CLUB GROWS

Columbus —About 220 farmers in 38 Ohio counties have set out this year to grow 1,000 bushels of corn on 10 acres, it was announced here Friday by the Ohio 100 Bushel Corn club of Ohio State university. Never before have half as many entered the contest.

Of the 38 counties entered, the following eight have more than 10 entries each: Montgomery, Huron, Darke, Logan, Clark, Madison, Pickaway and Warren.

SWIFT BRICKLAYER

James Garfield Brown, bricklaying Indian athlete, successfully defended his title as world's champion bricklayer in a contest at Olathe, Kan. In six hours and 46 minutes Brown put down 46,644 bricks in all—218 tons or five carloads—at the rate of about two bricks a second. He laid 416½ feet of road 28 feet wide, keeping six "longmen" busy handing down material.

Columbus —Two former officials of the R. L. Dollings company face six new counts charging use of the mails to defraud. William G. Benham and Dwight Harrison were indicted by the grand jury here late Thursday in connection with sales of stock of the International Note and Mortgage company, a Dollings subsidiary. The two will be arraigned in court next Tuesday to answer the indictments.

CONGRESSMAN DAVEY OFFERS SCHOLARSHIP

Mrs. Clark Will Chairman for County—Essay Contest Ends With Year.

Mrs. Clark Will, of this city, has been chosen chairman of this county for the Martin L. Davey Forest Conservation scholarship.

This contest is a state wide one and is sponsored by the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs. Congressman Martin L. Davey of Kent, Ohio, is offering this scholarship fund, which amounts to $4,000 to be expended at the rate of $1,000 a year for a scholarship in any college or university in the state of Ohio.

The purposes of the donor, Congressman Martin L. Davey and the Ohio Association of Women's clubs in offering this scholarship is to stimulate the thoughtful interest of the people of Ohio in this subject of fundamental and far reaching importance. Ohio has been so backward and so negligent in the matter of conserving and building up her forest wealth and in permitting the terrible effects of forest devastation that we must give immediate and serious consideration to its bearing on our future prosperity, security and happiness.

The contest is open to high school students in public and parochial schools, including those who graduated in June, 1925, and freshmen of the September, 1925 class.

The essays are limited to 500 words and must be in the hands of judges not later than December 31, 1925. The winner will be announced on Arbor day, 1926, and the formal award will be made at the state convention of the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs in the spring of 1926.

PROMOTION DAY EXERCISES AT M. E. CHURCH

Election of Sunday School Officers Wednesday— Rally Day.

Next Sunday morning will be "Promotion Day" in the First Methodist Episcopal Sunday school. The school will open promptly at 9 o'clock and at 10 o'clock all departments will assemble in the auditorium for the promotion exercises and presentation of diplomas. This will mark the closing of one of the most successful Sunday school years in the history of the church. Everyone cordially invited to attend.

Next Wednesday evening at eight o'clock there will be a meeting of the Sunday school board. At this session election of officers will be held. The aim of the school is progress in Religious Education and the coming year promises greater growth. Sunday, October 18, will be rally day and plans are being made to make this a great day. Tell your friends who are not attending Sunday school elsewhere. There is always a place for them.

TEAPOT DOME IS HOUSE, SAY STUDENTS IN TEST

Many Fail To Recognize Picture of Coolidge—Do Not Know What Reaper Is.

New York, Sept. 23.—Among the surprising answers given by American high school, college and university students in the annual test on current history, given by the Review of Reviews, results of which were made public recently, the fact was revealed that some believe "Ma" Ferguson, governor of Texas, to be president of Mexico, and one identified her with "Babe" Ruth, Teapot Dome is thought by others to be a building in Washington and still others confuse Mussolini with "Bat-tling Siki," "Al" Jolson and "Billy" Sunday. The survey was based on examination papers of 1650 students scattered throughout the country.

It was found that no particular section of the country stood out markedly above the average in the knowledge of current affairs. Eleven per cent of the students failed to recognize the photograph of President Coolidge. Only 42 per cent knew the name of the inventor of wireless telegraphy. Only one of four could identify a reaper and a tractor—even when it was given a setting of a grain field.

Some of the students placed Muscle Shoals in Italy, others placed it in the Pacific Ocean. One youth was convinced that the United States had purchased Japan.

"The question may well be raised," the report said, "whether we are supplementing the headline reading, the picture newspaper supplement and movie news with serious study in the classroom to an adequate degree."

"Too frequently the question: 'Do you enjoy reading the newspapers and magazines?' was answered frankly, 'Yes—the funny part!'"

Rural, urban and metropolitan communities were covered by the report. The general average of the 1650 test papers, was 43 per cent, although many schools which made low percentages did not forward their papers. One senior high school student returned papers only 14 per cent correct.

DETROIT FULL OF "WET PIG" JOINTS

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 23.—(U.P.)—After six years of prohibition, officials at the head of four government agencies charged with enforcing the law here admit Detroit is probably one of the wettest spots in the United States.

One of four officials, A. B. Stroup, new federal prohibition administrator for eastern Michigan, goes all the way and says he believes the city is "the wettest in the country."

Stroup recently came here from Boston after two years at the head of the New England enforcement division, which he brought to a high degree of efficiency.

The three officials who join in the lesser indictment are:

Carey D. Ferguson, United States collector of customs, Detroit, who recently assumed charge of the "dry navy" on Detroit River.

Allan G. Straight, state commissioner of public safety, in charge of state constabulary, and Frank H. Croul, police commissioner of Detroit.

The number of "blind pigs" in operation here are variously estimated all the way from 1,500, admitted by Croul, to 15,000, a Detroit newspaper guess.

SCIOTO TRAIL
PAVING MOVES
ALONG QUICKLY
Two Miles Are Finished and Other Portions Widened—Curves Easier—Work To Be Finished Before Bad Weather Sets In.

When winter comes and traveling is a pleasure on good roads motorists who use the new paving on the Scioto Trail north of the city and the improved remainder of the pike, will find it a real treat.

At the present time the Scioto Trail is closed in the northern half of the county while contractors are busy laying the brick paving.

In the meantime through Pickaway county the highway department has been busily engaged in moving back fences, widening narrow places, cutting away curves and banking them properly.

It was stated early in the week that more than two miles of paving have been completed and with the proper sort of fall weather obtaining the work should be completed in good time before turbulent winter conditions.

With this much of the trail paved in the northern half of the county, it is expected that next season will see the highway department and the Ross county commissioners getting together on a plan to pave the southern half through to Pike county line.

It is understood that a quiet little movement is under way to get paving of the trail in Pickaway county started next spring, so that eventually, when Pike county can see its way clear to join in the fifty-fifty program, the Trail will be paved from Portsmouth to Columbus.

This has been the dream of road men, county commissioners and state highway men for the last few years and their successors are catching the vision and working to the end of realization.

It will be recalled that the highway department in joining with the county on the paving of the remainder of the northern half of the Trail in Ross county, agreed to tar-treat the southern end of the road and it was stated at the time that later it was hoped to finish the paving of the remainder of the highway at no distant date.

Scioto county has completed its share of the paving, Ross county will soon be winding up its program, Pickaway county will do all it can to facilitate work on this improvement and eventually Pike will come in. If it were only a question of spirit and wishes, Pike county would have had the improvement probably long before this. The fact that Pike county does not make more headway in this direction is due to a lack of appreciation of the necessity, but unfortunately the finances of the district are more meagre than neighboring counties, hence the delay. The men of Pike county are just as enterprising and as good judges of values as anywhere else, but their good business sense tells them that they must wait until times are more propitious and funds a little more plentiful.—Chillicothe News-Advertiser.

Hailstorms Come by Day
It is a curious fact, but scientists seem agreed that four out of five hailstorms occur in the day time and those during the day are usually the most intense and damaging. This fact is quite true irrespective of the sections of the country in which such storms are studied.

Fashion Notes That Are of Interest to Women

While a tendency toward a somewhat greater elaboration in formal clothes is gradually creeping into the mode, in the fashions designed for daytime and for country wear, simplicity is the unfailing rule.

Silks of the washable type in plain colors and in both striped and plaided designs are frequently used for the simplest little sports dresses, and while gay colors are sometimes seen, the greater majority are in the faint pastel colors or the more definite crayon tones of pink, blue, green, yellow and violet, the latter at present extensively featured throughout every phase of fashion.

A most unique coat is made of extremely fine white serge. Sprinkled over the surface are large bunches of patch-work flowers that are made of many colored silks. Around the collar and cuffs are small bands of blue, violet and green silk, and these colors with the addition of many others make up the bouquets.

Fashion once more has hoisted the blue pennant to the masthead and sailed serenely into the mode with this color, the old-time favorite of years standing which for several seasons has been somewhat neglected and overlooked. In the early part of the season it seemed as though there was to be no place for navy blue, but recent openings which launched the modes for late summer and autumn confirmed the rumors afloat for some time that navy blue was to be of decided importance in the future modes.

Some Bags Large, Some Small; No Middle Course

Some of the new bags are so large that they will almost be confused with overnight cases. These show platts and fullness and are no longer smooth and flat. This news will be a joy to the busy woman who likes to carry lists and letters and samples in her bag.

This is true of one bag, but, strange to say, the opposite extreme is just as smart, and we again see very small purses. In other words, there seems to be no middle course, and bags are very large or very small. It remains to be seen later which of the two styles will become more popular in America. Even more elaborate bags follow the same lines, and we see the tiniest of vanities or else something as large as the average dinner plate.

One especially attractive vanity is a tiny octagon of enamel no larger than a half-dollar and about a half-inch deep. This opens into two compartments, one for loose powder and the other for the flat puff, and it has a mirror in the lid. It is made of finest Viennese enamel and is decorated in several different styles. The octagon box is suspended by two small chains about five inches long from an enameled cylinder which holds a lip stick and also serves as a handle. This is only one of many of the small vanities that are so decorative, but it is newer than any of the other shapes and varieties.

Low Collars
Collared shoes are a recent novelty. The newest name for the variegated trimming on the edges of the new pumps is the collar. The Greek key design is a favorite for such adornment and is carried out in colors contrasting with the remainder of the shoe. Nude or beige collars on white lace kid are frequently seen.

WE SAVE YOU MONEY.

The time is passed when the measure of the value of a memorial is quantity. I hope the time has come when that measure is quality. I care not whether the material be marble or granite, its future will be measured by the character of the design. It is quality that has preserved for us the finest examples in painting and sculpture. It is quality that will stamp our imprint upon cemeteries of the future. Simplicity, correct lines and proportions and proper ornamentation are the real fundamentals. A design that is right, material that is lasting and perfect workmanship, spells success for the future of this industry and the beautification of the cemetery. Will you let me help you select the memorial for your lot. Call at show room. NO AGENTS.

NOT LATIN.

Jack returned home from college, where he had won high honors as a student of ancient languages, but he plead ignorance one day when his younger sister asked him to translate a sign she had seen at an optician's, which read thus, "Con sultu sabo utyorey es."

Jack struggled manfully with it for several minutes and gave it up.

"It isn't good Latin," he said. "There are some words in it that are Latin. The others aren't. Anyhow, it doesn't make sense."

"That is what I said," replied his sister; "but the cook translates it without any trouble. She says it means 'Consult us about your eyes.'"

Aaron Luzador—Indian
Fighter Goes to Happy
Hunting Ground.

Aaron Luzader, 72, of near Staunton, Fayette county, died Tuesday night.

He was a former Ross coultian, having lived in Chillicothe as a young man.

In his death is seen another great Indian fighter who was with the reserves sent to aid General George Custer on the Little Big Horn river in Wyoming on the expedition which resulted in the massacre of Custer's force by the Sioux Indians, June 24, 1874.

Mr. Luzader came to Ohio from Iowa while still a young man, and spent most of his life in Ross county, also living at Grove City some time, and a few years in Fayette county. He was employed by Mr. Bush, having worked there since last spring.

Mr. Luzader often mentioned his experiences under the colors during the Indian war.

The deceased is survived by one son, Leroy, of Toledo, and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Beebe, of Columbus.—News-Advertiser.

SACRIFICES
IN DISGUISE

Rapid Advancement in the Business World is Made
Thru Honest Labor.

All real success must stand on the solid foundation of sacrifice.

This is true in every walk of life and with equal truth it may be said that the practices of thrift are of greatest value, because of the strength of character, will power and complete self-mastery which they impart.

The employee who is willing to make the sacrifice of doing more than he is paid to do—the man or woman who saves at the sacrifice of temporary pleasure, can rest assured they are on the high road of success.

To all those who are imbued with the true thrift spirit, sacrifices are but blessings in disguise.

A young man, who has made rapid advancement in the business world, and from every standpoint of good citizenship and personal progress, is an outstanding success, recently was asked to outline the principles which have served for his guidance. His written reply was as follows:

"I believe in doing more than I am paid to do, because I believe that it will pay me in the long run and that I can prove to be of greater value to myself and to my friends. If necessary, I will make sacrifices. I have made them in the past, and I expect to make them in the future. I do not believe any man can really succeed who is not willing to make sacrifices and make them promptly and willingly when they are called for."

Here is one of the best lessons in thrift ever uttered. It would be well if all young men and young women could read it carefully and apply it personally.

It is a lesson in thrift because it teaches success thru sacrifice.
S. W. STRAUS.

Fooled by Scarecrow

For several days a patient fisherman has been noted standing on the shore of a certain pond in Wilton, N. H. Day after day he stood there. A particularly constant watcher felt sure the man was getting short trout, and notified a game warden. However, the watcher's eyes are in need of correction, for the man turned out to be a well-fashioned scarecrow.

Zangwill Somewhat Peeved

On the door of Israel Zangwill's flat in London, writes a correspondent, is posted the sign: "To burglars: You are cheerfully invited to enter, as everything of value has already been taken." It appears that the rooms of the famous Jewish dramatist were almost "cleaned out" by burglars recently, and it further appears he is somewhat annoyed.

IN KENTUCKY
BIG REWARD

Charged That Three Men
Blew up Home of Judge a
Few Weeks Ago.

Lindsey Blair, 24, son of Squire S. J. Blair, his cousin, Langley Blair, 18, of Catlettsburg and John Blanton, 35 of Circleville, Ohio, have been arrested by Boyd county officials and are now in jail at Catlettsburg in connection with the bombing of Judge W. Flanery's residence in Catlettsburg a few weeks ago.

Lindsey Blair was arrested at Ford, Kentucky, near Winchester, at the home of a relative, while Langley was arrested in Catlettsburg and Blanton at Circleville.

According to Sheriff Clark of Boyd county, evidence in the hands of the officers indicate that the three men were paid $350 to blow up the Flanery home. He declared that these three arrests would probably bring about the arrest of prominent persons, in Boyd county, who were bitter against Judge Flanery on account of his relentless fight on the illicit liquor traffic.

That Blair has friends in Catlettsburg who knew where he was, was indicated by the fact that a message sent to warn him of the coming of the officers reached him an hour after he had been arrested, according to Sheriff Clark.

A reward of $2,000 was offered for the guilty parties. Circuit Judge Henry L. Woods, when the Boyd county grand jury was brought before him for instructions, gave special orders that a careful and courageous inquiry be made into the bombing and to remain in session until they had uncovered all of the persons connected with the explosion in any way.—Big Sandy News, Louisville, Kentucky.

HAPPENINGS IN OUR STATE

Taken Direct From the Wires by Correspondents of the United States Press Association.

Columbus.—Fire caused a loss of $7,500 and for a time threatened destruction of the Merchandise Storage company. The blaze apparently started in a pile of merchandise near the furnace.

Dayton.—An attempt to fly an airplane continuously for 100 hours, more than four days, without alighting will be made beginning Monday at Detroit by two pilots.

Dayton.—This city was asked last Thursday to dig down in its pockets and return $96,851 to the Water Works fund, claimed to have been illegally used by the city government in defraying other expenses of the city.

Tiffin.—Vincent Fleck, 22, miraculously escaped death here when the second floor of the building used by the Floom-Fleck wholesale grocery house collapsed and tumbled down tons of sugar and canned goods upon him. Fleck was dug out of the ruins and physicians say his injuries are not serious.

Elyria.—The channel machines used in hewing rock at the Birmingham quarry of the Ohio Stone company near here exploded, killing one man, fatally injuring four and hurting eight others.

George Ott, 45, of Amherst, Ohio, died on the way to a hospital. Clarence Dennison, Nelson Lawrence, Leon Hopkins and Martin Bates, all of Birmingham were all burned and cut so severely that little hope was held for them.

Dayton.—Dayton is the home of the ice cream cone industry.

Consolidation of eight of the principal cone manufacturing companies with headquarters in Dayton was confirmed recently. The company will have a yearly manufacturing capacity of 210,000,000 sandwich wafers.

Columbus.—Toadstools believed to have been mixed with mushrooms caused illness to three persons here Friday. All of them will recover.

Columbus.—The old adage about "The Woman Pays" appears to be denied by statistical information in the hands of County Clerk Gockenbach here. He has discovered that more than $60,000 alimony each year is given by husbands to ex-wives in this county.

COMING YEAR TO BE HARD ONE, SEER SAYS

The old world is in for a hard time next year, not the least of it being the grave danger of another European war and Red revolutions in many countries, according to the gloomy predictions of "Old Moore's Almanack," just issued for all the world to see and read.

In the words of the pessimistic seer, the heavens show that the year 1926 appears destined to test the temper and patience of myriads of human souls.

"Wonderment and amazement will hold you as in a spell when the possibilities of the year 1926 are laid bare," it says, and then agony is piled upon agony with lavish hand when it says: "License, lawlessness, self-indulgence, rioting, debauchery, improvidence, murder, theft and violence will attend the loosing of the unbridled passions of a perverted and godless generation."

"The sickle is put into reaping and the world generally will become so decimated during the ensuing four years that nothing short of divine intervention will save it from self-destruction."

Old Farmer Fumblegate Recalls Golden Days

"I've been reading in the paper about a good deal of regret being felt for the passing of Shanley's restaurant in New York," said Farmer Fumblegate. "What do you suppose there was about it that would make people so sorry that it was going to be torn down?" "Well, I'll tell you, Adrian. If you won't let it go any farther," replied Farmer Fumblegate. "I guess it was something like a restaurant I used to drop into when I was up in Kay See. They had a plump little red-headed waitress that would come and set on the corner of your table, and—"

"After she had got well acquainted with you, of course?"

"Yes, or before; and swing her feet and josh you till you gave her a good deal bigger tip than you had intended to."—Kansas City Star.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

RYTHMATS AT C. A. C. DANCE SATURDAY EVE

Other Pleasing Features Which Will Add to the Attractiveness.

The dance committee of the Circleville Athletic club, has been fortunate in again securing the popular Rythmats of Dayton, to furnish the music for the regular Saturday night dance this week. This event will be celebrated by another carnival dance, this orchestra having played here at the last carnival dance given by the club.

Those who attended that dance will vouch for the fact that a wonderful time was had on that occasion and will all be ready to recommend the dance of Saturday night in enthusiastic terms.

This wonderful musical organization from Dayton is one of the most popular ever played here and in view of that fact the committee has not only arranged for their appearance here this week, but have also closed a contract with them to furnish the music for the annual Pumpkin Show dance this year.

Good music has never failed to attract a good attendance at these Saturday night dances, and the combination of carnival dance and Rythmats should bring out a record breaking crowd.

In addition to these two very material incentives to attract a large attendance, the committee also desires to announce another feature which will add to the general attractiveness of the dance.

The interior of the gym has been repainted in an attractive manner and this redecorating will undoubtedly prove very pleasing to the eyes of the dance patrons.

Don't forget; Carnival dance and Rythmats. It is that a combination to intrigue the fancy of the dance lover.

BLOOD TELLS.

"There has always been a John Rodgers in the navy," proudly claims a member of that distinguished family, "since the days of Paul Jones." Well, there has never been a better John Rodgers! It is the indomitable spirit of the man which lays hold of the imagination and stirs the heart's blood to the boiling point. With quite a hopeless outlook before him and his sea bubbles with the chances all but against their rescue, with the angel of death actually grinning at them, John Rodgers gulped down his fears and "kidded" the crew into good spirits and a new-found faith. This is leadership of the highest quality. It rises above the forces which make men strong in their daily lives and brings them into contact with the spiritual. Not a moment did he falter in the responsibilities which were also a captain of the airship. He took no more. "He stood every watch." "He would not sleep."

The behavior of John Rodgers magnifies the pride of the navy, dignifies the service which he so admirably represents, and bucks up "every son of a sea cook" from the galley to the bridge. But it is more than that. It concerns and awakens a similar pride on the part of every American citizen, who sees in him and his sense of duty the traits of character which are so essential to great achievement in all walks of life. John Rodgers is a revelation which was needed for general instruction. He is fortunate in having been given the opportunity to make it, thrilling and distressing as it was. It reminds us just in time, when the world seems to be topsy-turvy and its spokesmen at odds, that the John Rodgers type has not been lost, and the service it will continue to give has not been overcome or disheartened. A toast to John Rodgers, a true American and intrepid gentleman! — New Haven Journal-Courier.

Finance in Afghanistan

An ingenious scheme has been devised for financing the Afghan embassies abroad. Every embassy in Kabul has to pay the same rent there for accommodation as the Afghan minister in the corresponding foreign capital. Colonel Humphry's mud bungalow, for instance, costs his government as much as the house in Grosvenor gardens, London, where the Afghan envoy resides. — Lowell Thomas in Asia Magazine.

Fertilizer Program for Whole Rotation

Increases Fund of Plantfood
and Improves Soil.

The soundness of a fertilizer program that considers not only the crop
immediately fertilized, but all the
crops in a rotation, is beginning to be recognized. The balance sheet which shows a profit from expenditure for fertilizer is not complete unless it
considers the residual effect of fertilizer applications on other crops.
Here is a case in point—in a series
of fertilizer tests by the Wisconsin
experiment station in southern Wisconsin, $3.50 worth of fertilizer produced an increase of 8.5 bushels of oats, as an average on 23 farms. If
the tests had stopped with the oat
yields, doubtless the returns would not
have satisfied some of the fertilizer
users. But the following year, clover
which followed oats on nine of the
farms, yielded 853 pounds more hay
per acre where the oats had been fertilized. On 17 farms where alfalfa followed fertilized oats, an increase of 950 pounds of hay per acre
was obtained in the first cutting.
Yields on the second and third cuttings could not be obtained, but would unquestionably raise the 950 pounds
increase materially.

In a good farming system, such results as the above are carried on to following crops. With the larger crops, more stock can be fed, and
more manure produced to return more plantfood to the soil. The net effect
of a sound fertilizer practice on general farms is to increase the revolving fund of plantfood, resulting in

Way of Burying Cabbage to Prevent Rapid Decay

In planning to bury cabbage to avoid
decay first select a well-drained spot
and dig a hole about four inches deep,
varying in width and length to suit
the amount stored. Allow the leaves
and roots to remain on the cabbage
and without bruising or breaking,
place upside down on the ground.
Wrap the outer loose leaves closely
about each head. The next row is placed on top of the first, between
the upturned roots, and this is continued until a pointed pile is made.
Over this, soil is placed gradually,
adding more as the weather becomes colder. Only solid heads of the late varieties should be stored. The flat
varieties are not as good for storage as are the tighter ball-head kinds.
Cabbage is not seriously injured by
freezing provided it is allowed to thaw
out slowly while still buried in the soil.

Bursting of Cabbage Is Very Easily Prevented

The bursting of growing cabbage
may be prevented very easily by
selecting the heads which show signs
of bursting and starting the roots by pulling, or cutting off some of the roots with a hoe. The pulling process
is preferable. Putting both hands under the head, pull until many of the
roots are loosened and the plant is pushed over to one side. This treatment effectually stops the bursting,
and not only that, but the cabbage
continues to grow lustily, and one has
the gratification of seeing the heads
thus treated grow to greater size and
weight, and all due to this starting
the roots, which checks the growth
enough to prevent bursting, but does
not hinder further development.

Feed Dairy Cows Grain for Maximum Production

A good pasture makes a good ration
for dairy cows but maximum production cannot be secured on grass alone.
Some grain should be fed, the amount
depending upon the breed of the cow
and the amount of milk she is giving daily. A Jersey giving 20 pounds of milk a day should have 3 pounds of grain in addition to the pasture while
one giving 40 pounds a day should have 10 pounds of grain. A Holstein giving 35 pounds of milk should have 3 pounds of grain, while one giving 50
pounds of milk should have 10 pounds
of grain.

FARM NOTES

Early molters are poor producers
and late molters are good producers.

Weeds absorb water. The moral:
Kill the weeds and save the water for
the corn.

Watch the garden for unwelcome
insect visitors. A bug in time saves
nine—and the garden sassa.

If the poultry house does not supply
protection and comfort, then it will not be a profitable investment.

Do you make a practice of greasing
your wagon wheels regularly? A little grease will go a long way in pro-
longing the life of a wagon.

Flea-beetles, pests that injure corn,
potatoes and garden plants, will call
quits when a spray of bordeaux mixture and arsenate of lead comes along.

The man who consistently follows
a well-established live-stock system
on his farm is more prosperous than
the man who tries to be in when conditions look good and out when they look bad.

Unlike ladies of that age, the Cincinnati Zoo is not ashamed of its fifty
years.

A System of Farming That Brings Health and Prosperity

Every farm, regardless of the method of
farming practiced or of the crops raised, should have at least a few good milch cows to provide

- (1) Enough milk, cream and butter for home use;
- (2) Enough skim-milk to raise some calves, pigs and chickens;
- (3) Enough cream or butter to sell to pay, in part or entirely, current living expenses.

This plan has been a "life-saver" for thousands of farmers, especially during the hard times of the past two years. It insures a living, at least, and often other income besides.

Such a plan pays best with a De Laval
Cream Separator. It soon pays for itself—
and skims cleaner, lasts longer and is easier
to operate and clean than any other.

GOVERNOR DONAHEY

Steps Into Limelight On State Prohibition Enforcement.

Columbus, Sept. 24.—(UP.)—Gov. Donahey has ordered that private dwellings must, NOT in the future be raided by prohibition agents unless information of liquor sales is confirmed by two reputable sources.

This action was taken by the state's chief executive following the furore raised by State Senator George H. Bender whose home was raided in Cleveland following receipt of an anonymous note by the prohibition bureau.

The prohibition bureau has acquiesced in the decision of Donahey and the new plan of enforcement will be carried out by Commissioner B. F. McDonald.

RED CROSS WORKERS ARE PLANNING CAMPAIGN

Officials Expect To Increase Present Membership of 200,000 By 10 Per Cent.

Columbus, Sept. 23.—Red Cross workers expect to increase their Ohio membership by at least 10 per cent in the annual roll call which begins Nov. 11, according to plans discussed at the Ohio Regional Conference of the American Red Cross, held at the Southern Hotel. State membership now is 200,000.

Approximately 40 workers from central and northeastern Ohio attended.

James A. Maddox, Columbus, presided over the conference. Miss Elizabeth Long, executive secretary, Franklin County Chapter, Columbus, addressed the meeting on the subject of "Civilian Home Service." She dealt with the work in behalf of former service men and women.

Three representatives from the national headquarters at Washington, were present. Robert E. Bundy, assistant to the vice chairman, former resident of Columbus and member of the Chamber of Commerce staff, spoke on "Chapter Building."

James L. Feiser, vice chairman and head of domestic operations, addressed the conference on "The Red Cross in Action." Mr. Feiser formerly was superintendent of the Associated Charities in Columbus and later director of Red Cross relief measures in the 1913 floods.

Discussions were led by Miss Alice Patterson, Mt. Vernon; Jesse M. Barton, Martin's Ferry; Mrs. Vadae G. Meekison, Napoleon; Miss Agnes Butch, Circleville; W. C. Hewitt, Springfield, and W. H. Backman, Bowling Green.

Firestone

Double the Mileage at Half the Cost

Only a few years ago a 32 x 4 cord tire listed over $50.00. Today, you can buy the highest quality 32 x 4 tire—a Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord—for about $26.00.

Last spring crude rubber cost tire makers around 40 cents a pound. Today, it is over 90 cents a pound.

It was not so long ago that 7,500 miles represented the average life of a cord tire, while today, 15,000 miles—and more—is only the usual performance for a Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord.

Due to large, concentrated production, specialized machinery and simplified factory methods, together with economical distribution, Firestone is able to keep tire prices low—no matter where the price of crude rubber goes.

And, because of special Firestone processes, chief among which is Gum-Dipping, motorists are today getting thousands of extra

miles by using Gum-Dipped Cords.

Gum-Dipping is an exclusive method used by Firestone. It is an extra process, carried out in special Gum-Dipping plants, after which the cords are put through the usual calendering machines. Gum-Dipping insulates and impregnates every fiber of every cord with rubber, and practically eliminates internal friction and heat, and builds strength and endurance into the tire.

In the day-in and day-out service of taxicabs, buses and trucks—on the cars of hundreds of thousands of motorists everywhere—Gum-Dipped Cords are giving unheard-of mileage, dependability and satisfaction.

Get ready for the coming months of slippery pavements and bad roads. Assure yourself of greater safety, comfort and economy by equipping now with Firestone Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloons.

LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. J. W. Johnson Passed Away Thursday Night -- Funeral Saturday.

Mrs. Serelda Johnson, wife of J. W. Johnson, editor and publisher of The Watchman, died Thursday night, September 24, at her home on North Court street at 10 o'clock. She had been ill for a number of years of diabetes. She was born near Jackson, June 21, 1850 and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron McLaughlin. She was married to J. W. Johnson August 24, 1879.

The deceased was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church. Coming to this city from Waverly a few years ago with her family, she had lived here ever since and made many friends. She was a woman of fine qualities of mind and heart; an ideal mother and wife and a woman whom the community and church will miss. Her husband and children have the sympathy of their friends and acquaintances.

Besides her husband she leaves two sons and two daughters. They are Miss Carrie E. and Paul Johnson, of this city; Carl L. Johnson, of Paris, Kentucky, and Carsa F., wife of J. L. Joy, of Syracuse, New York.

Of her immediate family three brothers are living. They are Aaron E. McLaughlin, of Washington D. C.; Stephen A. McLaughlin, of Waverly, and Oscar McLaughlin of Jackson.

The funeral services will be held from her late home Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. E. K. Johnson will officiate. Interment in Forest cemetery.

AMUSEMENTS

When J. Parker Read, Jr., obtained thru an international contest, the ten most beautiful women of Europe to appear in his picture, "Recoil," which has been booked for one day at the Metropolitan theater, beginning today. It was quite natural that he should receive requests from many of the nobility, who gather on the Riviera during the season, to witness the scenes in which these ten beauties of Europe appeared.

For these scenes Mr. Read had built a special banquet table which was made in the shape of a jeweled brooch, illuminated by hundreds, of concealed lights, and each guest's place at the table was indicated by a large bevelled crystal, which, with the light beneath it, gleamed like a huge diamond.

During the banquet, the scene called for a dancer who, to amuse the guests, was to dance on and around the table itself. Mr. Read engaged the services of Mlle. Marcelle Mascotte.

Mlle. Mascotte appeared in a dancing costume made of little else but a few gleaming jewels. There was a complimentary buzz of excitement as the potable audience leaned forward to watch. The lights went out, and only a spotlight brought forth the charms of the jeweled dancer and the jeweled table.

Suddenly there was a crash, and everyone gasped with horror as it was seen that Mlle. Mascotte had crashed thru one of the "diamonds." One can imagine the effect of this on Mr. Reed and his director, T. Hayes Hunter, and on his art director, Henri Menessier, as these three gentlemen knew that the "diamond" was a piece of glazed crystal half an inch thick, and they had a vision of the dancer's legs having been cut to ribbons.

Imagine their amazement when, just as they were about to rush forward, they saw Mlle. Mascotte pull her leg back thru the broken glass and, with a wave of her hand to the musicians, continue her dance and then finish this with one mad whirl on the table. Then she heard Mr. Hunter call out the signal that meant the end of the scene and thereupon promptly fainted and was caught in the arms of the guests seated at the table when she fell. Upon examination it was found that Mlle. Mascotte had suffered nothing except shock and a few minor cuts and bruises.

Bulgaria Bars Bobs

Bulgaria is a country in which the regulation of the affairs of the people is distinctly in evidence, especially in so far as the feminine sex is concerned. For instance, a recent decree of the state educational authorities forbids school girls to shingle or bob their hair. Another decree provides that skirts must not be too short. In one or two of the provincial towns the rules are even more strict and silk stockings and canes are regarded as quite unnecessary articles in a woman's attire. In general Bulgarian women dress soberly, but neatly, and prefer good, lasting textures to cheap and frippery goods.
